THE
CHICAGO, DANVILLE & VINCENNES
RAILROAD IS A FINISHED LINE
Running through one of the richest portions of Illinois, and connecting Chicago by the shortest route with the celebrated Block Coal fields of Indiana, and by way of Evansville and Nashville with the entire South. Its mortgage debt is $2,500,000, or about $18,500 to the mile Although the road is but just opened, it is already earning, after all operating expenses are paid,
More than the Entire Interest on all its bonds While railroad bonds may be plenty, those upon finished and paying lines and for so small a sum to the mile, are seldom in the market.
We do not hesitate to recommend these Bonds as unusually safe. They are attended with none of the uncertainties of projected enterprises, and the prompt payment of the interest, and the final payment of the principal, are as certain as any future financial event
The Bonds are for $1,000 each, have forty years to run, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, payable on the first of April and October, both principal and interest being payable in gold in New York

LETTER FROM OHIO.

BANGOR REVISITED AFTER THIRTY YEARS—A VISIT TO THE CITY SCHOOLS—COMMENDATION FROM AN OHIO INSTRUCTOR—BANGOR PEOPLE IN THE WEST

CLEVELAND O, Feb. 29th, 1872

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

Not long since, I paid a visit to Bangor, where a part of my boyhood was spent and as I took a few observations, making a record of them at the time, the idea has occurred to me of extending my notes into the form of a letter for your paper

Although the growth of the city has been slow, and the changes scarcely noticeable from year to year, yet to one who returns after an absence of thirty years, almost an entirely new city presents itself. As I walked the streets, I could scarcely recognize the old land marks that guided my travels there in boyhood The churches have been remodeled and improved, and new ones erected, large business blocks have taken the place of those of cheaper construction, new streets have been opened and built up with tastily constructed dwellings; shade trees are more abundant, shrubbery and flowers are more largely cultivated, and I don't know where in the land a city can be found, that is so generally filled with nice, cozy, beautiful homes as the city of Bangor Large numbers of them are elegant, without that shoddy appearance so often discoverable in the houses of the wealthy in the western cities, and the stranger feels assured as he passes, that within there is true refinement and taste

The population has changed, almost entirely changed, and the city is filled with a new people. It was some time before I could realize this One day I concluded to go out and look through the schools, and of these I propose now to speak I called at the little brick school-house by the Unitarian church, and inquired for Mr. Valentine, but he was not there, and what surprised me more, the lady-teacher occupying his place had never so much as heard of him! I subsequently learned that he had long since gone to that "undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveller returns."

I went up to the Boy's High School As I approached the old familiar building, I fancied that Mr Worcester, the former principal, brother of the lexicographer, was still there In a few minutes I took my seat on the platform where he sat so many years—perhaps in the very chair that was his In vain did I look for the "master" or wait for his coming Mr Worcester was an accomplished scholar and a most excellent man—His old pupils remember him kindly, and speak of him with a pride such as all feel who have been taught by a master renowned for his learning

I found that the building had been abandoned as a high school house, and schools of a lower grade occupied the rooms. I listened to a class under drill in arithmetic by the lady teacher in charge, Miss Lord. The performance was exceedingly good, and I adjudged her an excellent teacher. I went out and continued my search for the High School, and I found it not far distant. The building stood in a large lot beautifully shaded, and the grounds were neatly kept. Upon reaching the school-room or hall for study, what was my surprise to find it filled with boys and girls, quietly pursuing their studies together Formerly such a union of the sexes would have been considered highly objectionable—I looked about to see if these "rude boys" had cut their desks all to pieces, bespattered the floors with ink, and defaced the walls and casings as they used to do over in the old brick building There was none of it—The Vandal had departed and every one of them was a gentleman But, then, in the presence of such a beautiful class of girls as I saw there—beautiful girls I mean—how could they help it? A few days afterwards, I spent an hour or two in the Boy's High School of Boston, one of the best schools in the world, and I noticed that there was a lack of that propriety of demeanor, genteel address and politeness, so observable in the Bangor boys, due wholly, I believe, to the fact that it was a boy's school, and therefore abnormal in its organization and social developments.

In the Bangor High School, I observed upon the programme of daily exercises that one of the lady teachers taught a class in Greek, and another a class in Latin. The Principal gave me permission to visit the recitation-rooms, and I heard Algebra, Botany, English Literature and Latin. The Latin class was taught by Miss Varney, and I was struck with the exactness and thoroughness of her teaching, and her cheerful good nature I passed into Miss Hallowell's room, but my visit was short. The young ladies recited short passages from the English Poets with fine rhetorical effect, and, evidently, with nice appreciation of sentiment. Teachers everywhere need to take more pains to create a taste in their pupils for reading authors of real merit, especially the old English Classics, to save them from being drowned in the flood of modern literature that is upon us. I could see plain enough that Miss H was a lady of more than ordinary culture, possessing a large share of good sense, and a keen insight into educational values

The same building accommodates a number of Grammar-School classes. I had time to visit only one or two rooms. They were filled with a very superior class of scholars, sent up from the lower grades to fit for the High School. Presently the teacher of Music came in to give his regular lesson. There was a general fixing up of positions, and all seemed delighted to engage in the exercise. In most schools the pupils merely learn to sing, here, they were learning music in good earnest, and had already advanced so far as to sing easy compositions at sight.

I went into a school-house in the south-west part of the city, and found a mixed school, taught by a young lady. Writing materials. [illegible] with thought, and it was a treat to hear them reason out the steps they had taken in their slate work to reach the required results In the same school I heard a class read They read with great spirit and animation and all seemed to vie with each other in speaking the words plain I heard classes read in several other schools, and this feature—distinct utterance—was quite noticeable in all of them There was not, however, that nice attention paid to emphasis, inflection, and quality of tone that I observed in the schools of Boston and Portland. I wanted to gain some official information in regard to the Bangor Schools, and for this object I called at the office of the Superintendent of Instruction, but a card on the door said, "Out of town," and so I missed seeing him I wanted especially to enquire why it was that the people of Bangor did not provide the schools with better accommodations so as to make it possible for the Superintendent to classify and grade the schools as they ought to be—I saw an expensively built Jail, and I was told that it was a model in all of its appointments I saw no school house that would at all compare with it in architectural appearance, nor one that could be considered a model in its adaptation for school purposes

Those who know anything of the history of educational affairs in Bangor must necessarily know Mr. J. E. Littlefield His eminent abilities as a teacher, and his long services there in the schools, have given him a wide fame in the profession. It afforded me very great pleasure to meet him Retired from the active business of teaching, I found him living at his pleasant home in the enjoyment of gains more precious than gold—children that bless and honor him, and friendship that he has earned in a long life of unselfish labors

Bangor has representatives in nearly all the western cities. I met them often They are found in teachers, lawyers, doctors, clergymen, merchants and mechanics, and they do no dishonor to their old home and birthplace

Long may the city of Bangor prosper and shine in the East.

THE COUNTRY NOT DISARMED—Gen Dyer, Chief of the Ordnance Bureau states that the government has at present in its arsenals the following arms Springfield, breech loaders, Allen's patent, calibre '58, 2202, cade model of 1866, '69, 1868, model of 1866, 10,903, model of 1868, 10,006, model of 1870, 61,076, total breech loaders, 33,838 Of muzzle loaders it has new Springfield muskets made at that arsenal, 355,378, cleaned and repaired, 41,803, Enfield, 32,280, other manufactures, 8,366, in all of ordinary muskets, 501,220, of which, however, only the 355,378 new Springfields will be retained, if a good opportunity to sell be offered Besides these, we have on hand 62,720 breech loading carbines, principally of the Sharps and Spencer patterns also 10,960 Colt and Remington revolvers General Dyer stated that in 1866 he obtained authority from Secretary Stanton to alter 25,000 Springfield muskets to breech-loaders, on the Allen patent of that date—This was finally increased to 100,000. The army was furnished with these altered guns A further improvement was patented in 1868 and the 1866 guns were thus rendered obsolete When the French war broke out the regular army was furnished with the 1868 guns, and those of the first pattern stored in arsenals, many those lost or used, and a few small parcels furnished the Territories and surveying parties These were the ones sold Not a gun was altered to breech loaders while the sales were being made. The reason why it was determined by the War Department not to issue—as Senator Schurz suggested in debate might have been done—these guns to the militia, was the fact that three varieties of breech loaders were then being tested by the Ordnance Bureau, and the one decided to be best, it was decided should alone be issued. When that decision is made, there is the store of 355,000 new muskets to be altered into the accepted pattern At present the regular army has the patent of 1868, and there are on hand 10,942 guns of that and a later pattern. Gen Dyer thinks these figures disprove the charge of disarming the country.

THE CASTLE OF WINDSOR—Miss Adeline Trafton, in a book of foreign travel soon to be published by Lee & Shepard writes of Queen Victoria's home at Windsor somewhat irreverently

This is the Castle of Windsor
This is the Queen that lives in the Castle of Windsor

These are the pages that bow to the ladies that 'tend on the Queen that lives in the Castle of Windsor
These are the lackeys that wait on the pages that bow to the ladies that 'tend on the Queen that lives in the Castle of Windsor
These are the soldiers, tried and sworn that guard the crown from the unicorn, that stand by the lackeys that wait on the pages that bow to the ladies that 'tend on the Queen that lives in the Castle of Windsor
These are the "military knights" forlorn, founded by Edward before you were born, that outrank the soldiers tried and sworn; that guard the crown from the unicorn, that stand by the lackeys that wait on the pages that bow to the ladies that 'tend on the Queen that lives in the Castle of Windsor
These are the knights that the garter have worn, with armorial banners tattered and torn, that look down on the military knights forlorn, founded by Edward before you were born, that outrank the soldiers tried and sworn, the guard the crown from the unicorn, that stand by the lackeys that wait on the pages that bow to the ladies that 'tend on the Queen that lives in the Castle of Windsor

BLACKWOOD for February has besides the continuation of their charming serials that we are always glad to "get some more of," an interesting description of a "Serpent Charming" performance in Cairo "Quinet's Creation," "An Educational Experiment in Yorkshire," and "The Reasonable Fears of the Country." THE HERALD OF HEALTH for March has an article on "Exercise and Regimen," written by Addison in 1711, which reminds one so forcibly of the sanitary instructions of our own day that we are almost disposed to fancy ourselves standing still in spite of all the loud talk about progression Henry Ward Beecher has a good article in this number of "Self Government," and the department devoted to "Seasons for the Children," is unusually attractive. Republican Caucuses

The Republican Voters of the City of Bangor are requested to meet at their usual places of ward meeting on FRIDAY EVENING [illegible] to elect delegates for Mayor and Judge of the Police Court. Also on SATURDAY EVENING [illegible] to elect the usual number of Ward Committees and Warden and Clerk at the usual places of ward meetings.

Per order [illegible]

March 6 18

THE REPUBLICAN CAUCUS TO NIGHT

The Republican voters of Bangor are called upon to assemble at their Hall at 7 o'clock this evening to make choice of candidates for Mayor and Judge of the Police Court to be supported at the annual election on Monday next. The selection of able and worthy men to occupy these responsible positions is a matter in which every citizen interested in the welfare of our city may be and should be expected to take a deep interest. It is right, that the Republicans of the city should take counsel together for the public good and select strong competent and reliable candidates.

It should not be necessary to remind any thoughtful citizen of the imperative obligation resting upon him to perform the duties of citizenship, to manifest an interest in the direction of public affairs and to exert his influence on all proper occasions in behalf of the general welfare of the community. It is to be regretted that the favorable conditions which would result from such a course should be lost by a partial choice for our city government. We on last Monday, as many previous occasions, have shown that we have established a system which, if properly supported by the intelligent and different parties, and it is still in the power of every citizen who desires to influence the choice should avail of the opportunity to be present at this preliminary meeting, and urge with his friends and neighbors the hearty support of candidates mutually desired. It is desirable, therefore, that all who should be the most ample representation of the Republican voters of the city at the caucus to night, that the preference of the majority may be expressed and such a ticket agreed upon as will bring out the strong support at the polls.

With a full attendance at the caucus there can be no difficulty in selecting candidates who will command the confidence and support of all parties. We have no wish to urge the nomination of any man who does not feel that it is a necessity to go outside of the Republican party in order to fill the offices in question. We have no desire to see the party go to the wall by a division of its forces, if it can be avoided. We have no desire to see the Democratic party go to pieces, if it can be avoided. We have no desire to see the Republican party go to pieces in the city of Bangor. We want to see the Republican party in Bangor so united in the support of its candidates that there may be no question as to its success in November.

THREE YEAR WORK

In this issue of the 6th instant the N Y Herald thus concises the work of President Grant during the past three years: [illegible] It has reduced the [illegible]

Yesterday closed the third year of President Grant's term of office. He is the choice of the nation. He came into office without experience in administration, without political education or political training. He was chosen by a party, by a party made up of men who had led our armies to victory in crushing a great rebellion and who earnestly desired to see the lately insurgent States restored to order and to their proper positions in the Union.

After the feeble administration of Andrew Johnson, utter confusion reigned in the councils of the Southern States. The rebellion had been defeated in the field but was still alive in the hearts of the southern people. Outrages upon colored men and loyal men were of startling and fearful frequency. Life and property, liberty in name only to those who had been released from slavery by the war, and those who had aided or sympathized with the national cause against the union, was a burden of public debt, to be [illegible] the price of its [illegible] life. To correct these internal disorders and lighten this burden, was the task which General Grant was called by the great majority of loyal citizens of the country. In undertaking this task he had his sympathy and confidence of the people and though his course has run counter to the selfish and interested action of certain prominent politicians even in the Republican party, he stands firmly and highly sustained by the honest masses as on the day of his inauguration. With pride and thankfulness those who chose him to be the nation's right hand in this great work look today to the results of the three years. They show the nation's debt reduced by three hundred million dollars while taxation has at the same time been very greatly lightened. They refer with just satisfaction to the improved condition of the southern states, in which quiet has been established and industry and social order are resuming their natural course, bringing prosperity and happiness. We think cheerful as we point of our domestic affairs corresponds with the general current of our foreign policy. We have agreed with England by the Treaty of Washington, to submit the differences growing out of the Alabama claims to a tribunal of Arbitration. A great advance on the previous abortive attempts. Little doubts remain, and, though the negotiations are temporarily checked no man of common intelligence doubts the ultimate satisfactory termination.

And as President [illegible] has been signally successful in the work he set himself to do, he has been [illegible] in taking the right [illegible] and [illegible] shown by every recent [illegible] clearly express the great mass of the Republican party for his renomination.

"Perley" of the Boston Journal says — President Grant has been clearly exonerated from any connection with the abuses in the New York Custom House by the straightforward action of his two Military Secretaries, Generals Porter and Babcock. The evidence of General Babcock was, if possible, more conclusive than that of General Porter on Monday, nor was it in any way damaged by the severe cross examinations by Messrs Bancroft and Casserly. Not only his connection with the New York Custom House, but with the proposed annexation of San Domingo were thoroughly overhauled, and the gallant young officer came off with flying colors. He evidently had nothing to conceal, and was ready to tell the whole truth with alacrity."

The Boston Journal says The result of the municipal elections in Maine may be accepted as a forerunner of the result of the State election in New Hampshire on Tuesday next. Clearly the Republican sentiment of the country is becoming aroused, and in the elections to come will make the fact manifest in a way quite disheartening to the opposition."

AN AMUSING SCENE In the debate on the deficiency bill in the House, Wednesday Mr Stevenson of Ohio, who occupied the chair and is fond of a joke on the last vote appointed as tellers Gen Butler and Mr Farnsworth These gentlemen have not held a friendly conversation for years, and as they advanced to take their positions as tellers the House seemed curious to know whether they would confirm to the custom of tellers in the House and shake hands before beginning to take the votes They approached each other a little slightly embarrassed and took positions at a respectful distance, and neither deigned to look at the other while the voting was in progress Mr Peters of Maine, who is also fond of a joke added to the amusement of the scene by walking up and taking Mr Farnsworth's hand offering to introduce him to Gen Butler

THE WEATHER SIGNAL SERVICE The Boston Advertiser's Washington special says "Secretary Belknap sent to the House on Wednesday a recommendation for a larger appropriation for extending the operations of the signal service corps of the army There are now on file at the War Department applications from eighty four different points representing nearly all the States and Territories to be made signal stations and to be granted the benefits of the service General B F Butler has preferred a request on behalf of Cape Ann, Senator Anthony for Newport R I Professor J P Hilgard for Vineyard Haven, Representative Kellogg for New Haven, and C A Boutelle for Bangor, Me The greater portion of the applications are, however from smaller cities and interior centres of the West

THE DIFFERENCE. The Portland Press recalls the fact that one year ago the Argus headed the election returns from Saco, Lewiston, Rockland and Bath as follows

Saco at last breaks the Ring"
Democratic Mayor elected"
Lewiston does the honest thing"
Rockland also elects a Democrat"
Bath makes a mistake"

This year, the elections in Saco and Lewiston having gone against the Democrats, the Argus is more modest, and in its issue of Tuesday had the following headings

"A crumb of comfort Rockland elects a Democratic Mayor" Republican Mayors chosen in Bath, Lewiston and Auburn"

one Herald relates that a man who had proved his disloyalty so far as to say negroes were no souls came forward for prayers at the camp-meeting at Richmond Me last week. All the while he had bowed very low under a sense of guilt, he was listening to a very powerful exhortation from a sister who stood behind him, which cut him to the quick — Raising his head a little, and looking behind him, he saw it was a colored sister, as dark as night when he exclaimed "Gracious God! there is a soul in her" He has not a doubt left he no sour doctrine since

The new Boston Daily, the Globe, which is independent in politics, refers as follows to the renomination of President Grant and the character of the recent crusade in the senate —

We have no doubt in our own mind that General Grant will be nominated and elected, notwithstanding the existence of a strong movement of opposition against him in the Republican ranks, and that, too, encouraged, if not originated by men of power and position, who have a large degree of influence, and who have been looked up to as leaders of the public party. Once embarked in such a contest against the present incumbent, some will be deterred from action, some will be induced to further their object, by any instrumental change to party lines, which are at present so indefinitely defined. Some arguments would not be wanting to furnish grounds for these disaffected leaders, if they be, to even join hands with the Democrats upon a sort of middle ground of compromise which would produce an amalgamation of the most curious character. The possible result would be that of professed Republicans voting against Gen Grant and Democrats promoting the election of Charles Sumner — an anomaly which would startle some of our old fashioned politicians, while in Europe, the aspect presented to their limited knowledge of American politics would be that of a political somersault

THE TAX AND THE TARIFF BILLS A Washington dispatch says the ways and means committee hope to have the tax and tariff bills ready to report in a week or ten days. The tax on now is to report both together and to proceed to dispose of the tariff first. No vote has yet been taken in the committee on the subject of the duty on wool, woolens and although the utmost opportunity has been given for representations for and against a tariff and of exemption to present their views it is not probable that they will greatly affect the decision of the committee. There are claims outside that they made improperly, which is strictly correct, and so there is that each has about off set the other and that the action of the committee will be practically the same as if it had been left to their own deliberations. It is stated on good authority that the duty on pig iron has been finally fixed by the committee at six dollars a ton—a compromise mid way between the extremes of the committee

The great Tichborne trial in England has closed suddenly, by an abandonment of the case by the claimant of the Tichborne estate, who has been arrested as a swindler, for such it is clearly shown he is, and a swindler, too, of no ordinary character He made out so strong a case that even the mother of the lost heir of the estate believed him to be her son, and many of the associates of the heir believed that his story was a true one, and welcomed the impostor as their old friend It has been the most remarkable case of fraud on record, and the trial, in its length and in the ability with the fraud was made apparent has been quite as great a marvel in its way

It is a cause for congratulation that the National Senate has so far disposed of the French arms question as to appoint the committee which was elected by ballot, consists of Messrs Hamlin Carpenter Sawyer, Logan, Ames and Harlan, Republican friends of the President, and Stevenson, Democrat. Messrs Schurz and Trumbull each lacked a few votes of an election The committee is an able one and several of its members have already been over a portion of the testimony that must be examined. It will begin its investigations forthwith

The Portland Advertiser says the party who went to the top of Mt. Washington to bring down the body of the late private Stevens found Sergeant M L Hearn, who spent two nights and a day with the body of his dead comrade on the summit in the gale, in a sad state of nervous excitement as might have been expected

Governor Warmouth of Louisiana states that he intends to support the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention, and that should he (Warmouth) consent to become a candidate for re-election, "it will only be as a Reformer" From recent developments of his career we should think he would make a nice one.

Senator Hamlin has been chosen Chairman of the Senate Special Committee on the Sale of Arms

The Department of Justice has sent to different District Attorneys to prosecute certain ex-members of Congress for having accepted fees for collection of claims.

MAINE NEWS.

FROM AUGUSTA.

(Special despatch to Whig and Courier.)

AUGUSTA, March 8.—1 20 A. M.

The assembled wisdom has retired from the halls of the Capital, but their departure is not felt by the gay and fashionable portion of this community.

This evening the elite of the city,—a most brilliant company—are received at the Augusta House by Dr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Brickett. The large and fashionable company assembled shows that the doctor and his lady have a host of friends, and it is equally evident that they have the rare faculty of making every body enjoy themselves. The party this evening is notable as being a gathering of the elite to do honor to a citizen, not for the sake of a display to dazzle the eyes of foreigners, altho ugh the array of beauty and richness of costume has not been excelled by any assembly in this city. CITY DEMOCRACY.

At a meeting of the Democratic reformers last night, party organization was strongly urged pending the expected March election. The speakers denounced the Tammany oligarchy and advocated a stringent election law and the election of honest men to the offices.

A RUMOR

was current here yesterday that goods for the Chicago sufferers had been lost or stolen through the General Order stores of the Custom House in this city. The Tribune says it is not known whether the goods were lost or stolen. Ex-Governor Rosser of Illinois was in the city a few days ago to investigate the matter. Inquiries established nothing. Special Agent Howe upon investigation reported the receipt of the invoices but not of the goods. It is not certain whether the Custom House officials had anything to do with the matter.

A GENUINE STRIKE THREATENED.

The Commercial Advertiser states that there is a general movement among the mechanics and laborers in this city for a strike in April. It calls attention to the scenes of violence lately witnessed here among the shipmakers and those accompanying the strike of the plasterers of last fall. It warns the workingmen not to adopt the vicious strikings of the system in vogue among the lower order of English laborers, and intimates that the Workingmen's Union may find a combination among their employers throughout the country equally as strong, if not stronger than they.

[illegible] this afternoon a sensation was created by the appearance of Andrew G. Garvey, the plaintiff, as a witness for the prosecution. He established the identity of the warrant paid him for work on the county Court House. The payment was made by its deposit in a Broadway bank, where he had further deposits exceeding $100,000. He received the warrant in the Board of Supervisors room from Mr. Woodward, a deputy clerk of the Supervisors, to which he had presented the account a week previously.

The prosecuting counsel asked the witness if the account was genuine and true in all its details?

The defence objected, when the prosecuting counsel he proposed to show by the witness that the bill was an exception; that a portion was fraudulent.

An argument followed until the adjournment.

Crowds were attracted to the vicinity of the court room by an announcement that they had got Garvey, and great excitement and interest was manifested. There were many threats against Garvey who is understood to have turned State's evidence.

Great Fire at Cincinnati!

A THRILLING MIDNIGHT SPECTACLE!

Seven Steamers in Flames!

BOATS AND CARGOES TOTALLY DESTROYED!

Several Persons Reported Missing!

THE STEAMBOATS ON FIRE.

CINCINNATI, March 7.—1 A. M. Shortly after midnight a fire broke out among the steamers at the wharf, totally destroying the following boats with their cargoes: Champion, Argosy, St. Charles, Kate Robinson, Major Anderson and Abeona, and also seriously damaging the immense New Orleans wharf boat, which may yet be destroyed.

THE FLAMES STILL RAGING.

It is impossible at this hour to ascertain the loss, which will be heavy. The fire is still raging, but is not likely to extend beyond the boats mentioned, as the threatened boats have been removed by tugs.

ORIGIN OF THE FIRE—LOSS OF LIFE FEARED.

Later—The fire among the steamers at the wharf last night, originated on the St. Charles, her Captain and the others having to swim ashore, and it is feared that some lives were lost.

THE LOSS

on the seven boats and their cargoes reaches a quarter of a million dollars. Twenty-five bales and crates of Queen's ware on the levee were also burned.

LATER DETAILS—NARROW ESCAPES.

The people aboard the steamboat St. Charles last night, had barely time to escape from the flames by jumping overboard. Capt. Russell, a colored chambermaid and the steward, escaped with singed hair.

FIRE ON SHORE.

A large amount of cotton and other freight on the wharf caught fire and burned fiercely for a time, but the flames were finally extinguished. The steamer Robert Burns, loaded for Memphis, lying at the wharf, dropped down to the foot of Main street and escaped injury.

POWDER EXPLOSION.

A keg of gunpowder in the magazine of the steamer Kate Robinson exploded, producing a shock like an earthquake. A lantern in the hands of the workmen was broken by the shock.

THE BURNED STEAMERS—OVER $100,000 OF PROPERTY DESTROYED.

The steamer Abeona was sold yesterday for $5,000, to be delivered as soon as her cargo was discharged. The cargo, estimated as worth $75,000, was insured in Cincinnati and elsewhere. The Kate Robinson was to sail for the Tennessee River to-day. She was valued at $10,000, but uninsured. The cargo was also valued at $15,000. The St. Charles was valued at $30,000 and insured for $15,000 in Cincinnati agencies. The freight was valued at $3,000. The Argosy was valued at $7,000. She had 100 tons of freight for New Orleans, including 200 bbls. of whiskey. Loss on cargo, $60,000. The Champion was loaded for Shreveport, but was not entirely consumed. Uninsured.

LOSERS, AND LOSS.

Captains Williamson and Isham are the heaviest losers. They owned three of the boats and were uninsured. Two deck hands belonging to the St. Cheries are missing and are supposed to have been drowned.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE SENATE—"SALE OF ARMS" INVESTIGATION.

WASHINGTON, March 7. The Senate select committee on the sale of arms commenced an examination to day. The first witness was Secretary Belknap, who said he had no knowledge of any sale made in violation of law. On the 15th of October, 1870, having received a telegram which gave him reason to believe that Remington was an agent of the French government, he immediately gave orders that no more arms be sold to him. He had never spoken to Remington; nor did he know that afterwards that Richardson was an agent at subsequent sales. In reply to a question whether any precaution could have prevented the French firm from receiving those arms, he replied:—"Not after they were sold. He presumed the purchasers sold to whom they thought proper.

OFFICIAL ORDERS

however, were given to the ordnance bureau, not to sell to agents of the French or Prussian governments. The War Department had arms unsuitable for our service, being engaged in providing better ones. He only knew from newspaper and general rumor that arms were sent to France. Whether they were purchased previously from this government, or manufactured by private firms, he had no means of knowing.

BARON GEROLT'S ACTION.

He was asked whether Baron Gerolt had made complaint that arms were sold to the French government, and to this question replied:—"On the 15th of October, 1870, Baron Gerolt called to request that the sale of arms be postponed till next week." Witness informed him that our government would sell arms to either the agents of the French or Prussian governments.

THE PRUSSIANS WISHED TO BUY.

Mr. Gerolt said they were not agents that wanted to buy, but friends, when witness said they would have time to put in bids by next week. To this Baron Gerolt said they first wished to consult the Prussian government. The sale, however, was not postponed beyond the next week.

Witness was interrogated on other points heretofore noticed in the report of his testimony before the House Committee. To-morrow the committee will examine Gen. Dyer, chief of the ordnance bureau, at his house, he being unwell.

THE HOUSE COMMITTEE

on the expenditures of the War Department held a meeting this morning in the matter of the sale of arms and ordnance stores, and examined at great length Major L. P. Bennett of the ordnance department, who explained in detail the modus operandi of making sales and accounting for the proceeds.

THE PURCHASERS.

He disclaimed all knowledge of purchases of arms on behalf of either France or Prussia, but admitted that the war between those powers stimulated a demand for arms in this country on speculation.

OUR SUPPLY OF ARMS.

He testified that the minimum quantity of arms to which the stores of the government had been reduced during that year was about 250,000 stand of suitable and 450,000 of unsuitable.

SOUTHERN COTTON CLAIMS.

Gen. Payne and Gen. Ewing were before the House Committee on Appropriations this morning. They are in favor of the bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay to lawful owners the market value of all cotton seized by agents of the United States after the 30th of June, 1865, with six per cent interest, after deducting 5 cents per pound to defray expenses.

THE PRESIDENT,

accompanied by Mrs. Grant, Miss Nellie Grant, Mrs. Gen. Rucker and Gen. Porter, left Washington to-day to attend the marriage of Miss Drexell in Philadelphia. They will return on Monday.

MISSOURI.

THE BOND SWINDLERS.

ST. LOUIS, March 7. The Mayor of Pleasant Hill and one or two officials arrived here yesterday and with Sheriff Bryant will take Ladue and Nichols, implicated in the Cass county bond swindle, back home to-morrow. The prisoners were removed from the jail tonight. It is not thought that a case will be made out against them.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

NASHUA, N. H., Mar. 7. The Republicans were addressed to-night in the City Hall by Charles Holman presided, and the Beethoven Club furnished music.

CONCORD, N. H., Mar. 7. The Republicans and Democrats are each holding political meetings here to-night. Mrs Mary A. Livermore is addressing the former, and Hon. G. P. Kimball of Maine and J. E. Fitzgerald of Boston the latter. Both halls are densely packed with people.

FORTY-SECOND CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.

SENATE.

Bills were passed for the erection of public buildings at Albany, St. Louis, Hartford, and Little Rock, Ark.

A resolution was adopted directing the Secretary of War to transmit a report of the progress of the exploration now going on in Nevada and Arizona under the direction of the Engineer Department.

Mr. Chandler, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a resolution directing that committee to make a thorough inquiry into the subjects of immigration and the treatment of immigrants after arrival in this country; also into the quarantine and health regulations at the chief ports in the United States.

Mr. Cole suggested that the inquiry had better extend also to the treatment of immigrants by railroad companies.

Mr. Chandler accepted the amendment.

The amendment providing that the committee should visit only New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, was adopted, and the bill passed.

Mr. Ames, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill to provide for the disposition of that portion of the military reservation at Fort Ripley, Minnesota, lying east of the Mississippi river, which was passed.

Mr. Chandler presented a memorial of the National Board of Trade asking the passage of a law authorizing American citizens to purchase foreign built ships and register them for service under the American flag in our foreign maritime commerce, and that all our foreign product needed for subsistence on vessels engaged in foreign trade or in sailing or repairing of steamships or sailing vessels may be withdrawn free of duty from bonded warehouses and to provide for the return to American registry of all tonnage alienated during the war to foreign flags, as the owners may desire. Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. Flanagan called up and advocated the bill providing for the cession to the United States by Texas of a certain portion of its territory for Indian reservations.

After Mr. Flanagan's remarks the bill was laid aside and the Senate resumed the consideration of the legislative appropriation bill, and considerable discussion ensued, but without reaching a vote the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr Hoope of Mass., from the Banking Committee, reported back adversely on the Senate bill for the redemption of the temporary 3 per cent loan certificates at the rate of three millions a month, and moved that it be tabled.

Mr. Garfield of Ohio opposed the motion, wishing it debated.

Mr. Hoope insisted on the motion, stating that the report was unanimous from the committee.

After considerable discussion the bill was tabled by a large majority.

The deficiency bill came up and the House proceeded to vote on the amendment reported from the Committee of the Whole.

After disposing of all amendments to the deficiency bill and agreeing to one offered by Mr. Dawes of Mass., for the payment of a full day's wages to laborers and mechanics in Navy Yards, &c., who had worked only 8 hours, the bill was passed.

DEMOCRATIC FRAUDS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE. The Democratic leaders in New Hampshire, alarmed at the direct charges of fraud preferred against them, have telegraphed a denial all over the country. The Nashua Telegraph of Wednesday evening, however, gives an analysis of one hundred and twenty-three names that have been fraudulently added to the Ward Five check list in that city, and says: "The Democratic organ makes no attempt to defend this bogus check list, and it has the best of reasons for not referring to it. There are those besides the Selectmen who are responsible for that check list. The Gazette is a principal to the fraud. We understand the Selectmen erased a large number of names on the copy furnished for the printer, and not one of them was left off. Of course the Gazette now thinks that the least said the soonest mended. It cannot defend the fraud, because it knows all about its enormity. It dare not, lest, in self-defence the Selectmen show its participation in the fraud."

The House Committee on Banking and Currency has resolved to report adversely upon Mr. Sherman's three per cent. bill which passed the Senate some time ago.

A letter has been received from the chairman of the National Republican Committee, recognizing the Republican Committee of which U. S. Marshal Packard is chairman, as the only regular Republican committee in Louisiana.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS

—The diggers have not yet found the gas leak on the corner of Union and Third-sts.

—Those street-sprinklers are hereafter to give Central-st. a wide berth.

—The Poor House on the City Farm has fallen into decay and is to be burned by order of the City Council.

—The market has been almost entirely bare of country teams for the past few days, owing to the drifted roads.

—The graduating exercises of the High School class of 1872 will take place in City Hall on Monday evening next.

—Prof. Talcott's exegesis of the Sabbath School lesson will be given this evening in Hammond-st. vestry.

—Seven batteaux for the West Branch lumbermen start for Guilford per railroad this morning.

—The weather was more comfortable yesterday, but the day seemed a slice of December, nevertheless.

DRY GOODS AT AUCTION. Gordon Stanford recommences his auction sale of Dry Goods to-day—B. B. Patten, Auctioneer.

—Messrs. Morse & Co. have purchased of Gen. Thomas the "Bright lot" on Harlow-st., running from the street to the Kenduskeag stream, with about 120 feet front.

—We noticed a heavy sled on the streets yesterday, drawn by three horses abreast—an unusual method in these regions of hitching up teams.

—We understand that owing to the extreme and unprecedented cold weather of the past few days, Winterport harbor is frozen over.

—The entertainment by the Corinth Dramatic Company announced for Wednesday evening last, has been postponed to Wednesday evening, 13th inst.

—The "friends of a party of early Bangor excursionists to Mt. Desert received a telegram from the home-bound tourists, dated at Ellsworth yesterday, saying: "Roads dusty; heat oppressive."

—The extent of the corn trade in this city is surprising to those who have never looked into the matter. One firm alone on Exchange street have sold within the past eighteen months over five hundred thousand bushels.

—Every railroad man on the B. & P. train delayed by snow Tuesday, was frost-bitten—some very badly. The Superintendent, who handled a shove with great vigor beside his mer, shared the same fate.

BENEFIT BALL. A grand ball complimentary to Mr. A. L. Spencer, will be given in Acadian Hall this evening. The management is in competent hands, and the affair will no doubt be very pleasant and successful.

—Many of the logs left in Blunt & Hinman's booms, a short distance below the city, have been forced into an upright position by the pressure of the ice and the working of the tides, so that at a distance they resemble a lot of masts.

—No mails from St. John was received here yesterday. The E. & N. A. train from this city reached McAdam exactly on time, but as no train had got through from St. John, was obliged to turn about and come back, reaching this city at 9.15 last evening.

—We learn that the schooner Coral of this port has been sold by her owners, N. L. Merrill and Capt. Charles Kent, to Capt. Simeon M. Colson and others of Bucksport, for $1500. Capt. Colson will hereafter command her and she will hail from Bucksport.

—New Post Offices have been established at Harmon Centre in this county; East Surry and North Lamoine in Hancock county; and Embden Centre in Somerset county. The Post Offices at North Farmington and Pratt's Corner in Franklin county have been discontinued.

HIBERNIAN MUTUAL BENEVOLENT SOCIETY. At the annual meeting of the Hibernian Mutual Benevolent Society, held last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, Michael Crowley; Vice President, John J. Flynn; Secretary, Edward S. Perry; Treasurer, M. J. Desmond.

"WHO CAN BEAT THIS?" asks our correspondent in regard to the following:—"Mrs. M. W. Gammon at the alms house in Orono keeps a small flock of 18 hens which produced in the year ending March 1, 1872, 217 dozen eggs. Who shall say that keeping poultry is not profitable or that Mrs. Gammon doesn't know how to do it?"

TOWN ELECTION. The following is a list of Town Officers elected in Newburgh on Monday, for the ensuing year:—Horace F. Bickford, Moderator; George R. Thurlough, Town Clerk; Jabez Knowlton, Josiah P. Rigby and John J. Hill, Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of the Poor; Jabez Knowlton, Treasurer; F. O. J. S. Hill, S. S. Committee; Horace P. Bickford, Town Agent and Auditor; James Thomas, Collector and Constable.

—We learn that one evening the first of last week, Dr. Hibbard, the lecturer on physiology whose visit to this city last year our readers will remember, stopped in the middle of a lecture he was delivering in Montreal, utterly unable to remember what he was about to say. He was taken to his room, but did not recognize his friends or even his wife, who was immediately sent for; he seems to have lost his memory entirely, does not know where he is, does not know his own name, and is supposed to have softening of the brain.

PLUCKY WOMEN. We learn that a few days since while the driver of a stage was doing some business in the post office of a down-river town, his horses took fright and commenced to run, whereupon two ladies who were alone in the coach crept out of the windows on either side, crawled up to and upon the box, and together hauled up the horses. This done, they turned around and went back for their river, who was in a terrible fright lest his team and passengers should meet with a general smashup.

THE STAGES made better time yesterday than on the two previous days, but were still considerably delayed. That from Ellsworth due at 5 A. M. arrived at 5 P. M., and the Belfast stage did not come in until nearly 11 P. M. Frank Higgins, driver of the latter, reports the road between Stockton and Winterport completely blockaded, so that teams are obliged to drive through the neighboring fields. The stage from Rockland left that place at 6 yesterday morning and was until 4½ P. M. getting through to Belfast.

INTERNAL REVENUE. The Internal Revenue officers have received directions to proceed with the assessment of the Income tax. It has been generally supposed that Congress would repeal so much of the law of 1870 as imposes this tax for the year 1871, but it has not been done, and the tax must be assessed during the month of March. This, however, is the last assessment: that the law calls for. The assessors have also received orders from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to assess a tax on the dividends and profits of Banks and other corporations between Aug. 1st, 1870, and Jan. 1st, 1871. The question whether or not this tax should be assessed and collected has long been under discussion, but was not decided until very recently, and the Commissioner's circular issued a few days since, orders that it be immediately assessed.

THE PILGRIM. The panorama of the Pilgrim's Progress was unveiled before a medium size audience in Rollinsian Hall last evening, and proved far better than many were led to expect. All of the paintings were good, and some [illegible] The [illegible] views, with very fine, observing all the [illegible] praises which have been awarded them in other cities. We have no hesitation in recommending the exhibition to all, and an evening may be well and profitably spent in witnessing it. It will be repeated this and to-morrow evenings, and to-morrow afternoon a special exhibition will be given at reduced prices of admission to allow the scholars an opportunity of visiting it.

WELL CARED FOR. Tuesday night a lad named William McQuin presented himself at the lock-up for shelter, saying that he had walked all the way from Portland, and that day had come on foot nearly twenty miles.—One of his feet was badly frozen and his face and ears were also frost-bitten by exposure to the wind that terribly cold day. The police kindly cared for and fed him, and the next morning the City Marshal procured medical care for his frozen foot. Yesterday morning Major Bolton took him to the E. & N. A. offices, where Sup't Angell furnished him with a free pass, and he was dispatched for St. John, in which city his friends reside. Quite a number of similar cases have occurred in this city during the present winter, many of which have never been made public.

BURGLARIES. Until Wednesday night there has not been a case of burglary in this city for nearly three months, and the burglar market was getting dull. To break up this monotony came the announcement yesterday morning that during the previous night a number of stores on Exchange street were broken into; but the "jobs" were badly bungled, showing that it was not the work of professionals. E. A. Buck & Co.'s store on the corner of State-st., was entered, probably by picking the lock or using skeleton keys, and several pairs of boots and rubbers stolen. At Stone & Jones', (Low's Market) a little farther down street, the same game was played to effect an entrance, and two of the nice hams kept for sale by that firm, were carried off by the rogues, who evidently have a taste for bacon. A pane of glass was broken out of a window in Sidney Davis' clothing store, and a lot of fancy neckties and small articles of clothing within reach were pulled—the value of the whole amounting to some $15. In the two first-named stores, the rogues searched for money, but their reward was small.

ONE MORE UNFORTUNATE.

A YOUNG GIRL COMMITS SUICIDE IN ORONO BY TAKING STRICHNINE—A LONG DELIBERATED ACT.

On Wednesday afternoon Ella Spencer, of Bradley, a young girl of about 17 years, whose mother resides at present in Orono, came down to this city from the last named place on the train in company with Fanny Shaw of Milo, a friend of hers. On arriving here at 2.15, they went to a saloon on Exchange st. where they ate some oysters, and then proceeded to the Post Office. Here they parted, the Shaw girl going to see some friends, while the other said she was going to collect the U. S. Pension paid her and her brothers and sisters on account of the death of her father in the service during the late war. Where she went after this is not known, but shortly before the time of the evening up train leaving, she went into the Exchange st. depot. The Maine Central train was forty minutes late and the E. & N. A. train was kept back for it, and while waiting in the depot Miss Spencer spoke to Alvin Haney, an employe of the road who was in the baggage room, at the same time taking out of her pocket a small vial which she showed him and asked what he thought of that. He looked at it, saw it was labeled "Strichnine—Deadly Poison," and asked in surprise if she was going to take it. She replied that she was; "if taken in small quantities it was good for a headache." Some farther conversation ensued, during which the unfortunate girl scribbled with a lead pencil upon several cards and posters on the walls of the ladies' waiting-room. A reporter of the WHIG AND COURIER visited the depot yesterday, and happening to look at one of the bills while conversing with Mr. Haney, discovered these words written with a pencil and half erased: "Ella Spencer." "It is a hard thing to poison yourself." Mr. Haney did not know her design at the time and did not read what she was writing, but if he had, he would, he says, have destroyed the poison, which at one time he held in his hand to examine.

She went on board the train when it arrived, and must have swallowed some of the poison soon after taking her seat in the car, as she was very sick and before reaching Orono vomited a number of times—probably from taking an overdose.

It was past time o'clock when the train got to Orono, and she went to the home of her mother on the corner of Pine and Myrtle sts. The family had retired, but by rapping loudly she roused her mother, who cried out "Who's there?" "Ella," was the response.—She was admitted by a younger sister, threw off her outside clothing and warmed herself by the fire, having lighted a lamp. A few minutes afterward she went into a small cook room adjoining her mother, supposing it was for a lunch, as she heard some little noise from rattling of dishes. Coming out into the room occupied by her mother and two small-er children as a sleeping room, and refusing to share the bed with them, she made up a bed for herself on the lounge, blew out the light and retired. In a short time she called out wildly, "Mother! mother! get up, and don't leave me here to die alone!" Her mother appearing, she added, "If I've hurt you in any way mother, forgive me," and immediately expired. A physician was called, but arrived too late to save her life. A cup containing strichnine, found in the cook-room, and a drachm bottle half filled with it in her dress pocket, left no doubt as to the cause of her death.

In personal appearance Ella Spencer was quite good looking, but her relations with her family have never been very pleasant, and she had led a rather dissolute life for two or three years past. We are informed that twice before she had attempted to take her own life. Her father, as we before stated, died some years ago from disease contracted in the army, and her mother married a Mr. McPherson, who is now in the woods.

DEEDS VERSUS CREEDS

And seeing truth wholly lost my way,
Reckoned as a reward by the swinging tides
Of doubt and faith confused by many guides,
Made one armed with a doctrine and a creed
Which each felt safe in accepting
Would meet and satisfy my very need

And one claimed Jesus was the Son of God
Cut one denied that he was more than man
One promised wrath in the condemning plan
One dwelt upon its mercy and its love
One threatened with the rod
One wooed me with the cooings of the dove.

THE POPULAR LOAN.

Northern Pacific Bonds!!

$6,000,000

Of these bonds were sold in London, and over

$1,500,000

Sold in the United States during the month of January

These Bonds have sold, during the past year, to an extent unexampled by those of any other Corporation, and they have now taken their place among the solid and favorite securities of the country

This is because the Bonds are based upon the amplest security, being a FIRST AND ONLY MORTGAGE upon the railroad, franchises, all the lands and property, and rights of property, real and personal, now in possession by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, for which the said Company may hereafter acquire. The Land Grant of the Northern Pacific Railroad will average over 20 000 acres to each mile of road. This land is capable of producing in abundance all the Fruits, Vegetables and cereals of the Eastern or Middle States

THE VALUE OF LAND GRANTS

The average price at which twenty-six land grant railroads have thus far sold their lands is $7 04 per acre—4 0 highest average of any grant being $13 98, and the lowest $2 67. With few exceptions the average selling price has increased from year to year. The lands of the Northern Pacific Road are admitted by all who have seen them to be better and more saleable than those of most other grants, but, sold at the general average of 7 04 per acre, they will yield more than $101,000 per mile of road—more than three times the possible cost of construction and equipment, or, at the lowest average of any grant (4.07) they will produce more than $70,000 per mile which is $20 000 per mile more than the company are allowed to issue bonds

TRAFFIC ON PACIFIC RAILROADS

As officially reported, the gross earnings of the present Pacific Railroad (Union and Central) for 1871, the second year of through business (December earnings estimated) reach Seventeen Millions and a Quarter. Of this 65 per cent is from Local Business, and, it is stated, fully 55 per cent or nearly Nine and a Half Millions, net over operating expenses

As equal traffic on the Northern Pacific Road will pay a dividend of 15 per cent on its total cost. With its great and unquestioned advantages in distance, grades, climate, and tributary fertile country, the Northern Pacific is assured of a vast and profitable business from the outset, with a large increase for the future

These facts regarding Pacific Railroad earnings, and the market values of Railroad Lands, as shown by a table given to settlers, show the unquestioned security of Northern Pacific Railroad Bonds

CONSTRUCTION OF THE ROAD

Road is completed to the eastern boundary of Dakota, the Red River of the North, a distance of 55 miles. On the Pacific coast, 65 miles are under construction the greater part of which is completed including purchased lines, the Northern Pacific Company, have now nearly 600 miles of running road. Contracts are let for the construction of 635 miles more, to be finished before the close of 1872.

WE WOULD RECOMMEND THE NORTHERN PACIFIC SEVEN-THIRTY GOLD BOND AS ONE OF THE BEST AND SAFEST SECURITIES NOW OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC

In this security are combined the high credit of a first-class Railroad Bond, with the solidity and safety of a Real Estate Mortgage on Land worth more than twice the amount loaned.

These Bonds are payable in 1900—bear 7 3-10 per cent. Interest in Gold, payable first of July and January are free of U S Tax—are redeemable at 10 per cent premium for the Company's Lands at the lowest cash price, and are issued in the following denominations. Coupon bonds, $100, $500 and $1000; Registered bonds, $100, $500 and $1,000 $5,000 and $10,000.

The proceeds of all sales of Land are required to be devoted by the Trustees of the bondholders, (Messrs Jay Cooke and J Edgar Thompson) as a Sinking Fund to the purchase and cancellation of the first mortgage bonds

EXCHANGING is now in view of the stability and steady policy of the Government to call in its 6-20s and substitute a low interest bond—$140,000,000 having been called in for cancellation since September 1st—many holders of 5 20s are exchanging them for Northern Pacifics, thus adding to their principal the present premium on Government Bonds and increasing their yearly interest income nearly one-third.

The marketable stocks and bonds, will be received at current prices in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties without expense to the investor

For further particulars concerning this Bond, or purchase of the same, apply to the undersigned.

NOT ONE FAILED IN 26,000.

The New Year finds the LIGHTNING SAWS universally acknowledged to lead the American market. No manufacturer of saws has dared to question or publicly test, at the Exhibition, Institute or elsewhere, the matter of superiority of the latest improved Saws. The $500 challenge for expenses of public contest is engraved on each saw.

All teeth are cutters and simple as old Y. All Saws warranted to Cut and Touch uninjured.

The large increase of the business has compelled lease of No 58 Beekman-st, and arrangements for the manufacture of five thousand LIGHTNING cross cuts per month, and hope to be able to fill all orders promptly

The supply has been unequal to the demand for the LIGHTNING BUCK SAW, but hereafter I will endeavor to keep a no[illegible] The sale of several thousand dozen of the above-mentioned saws causes bollof that they are the best blades in the market. All Lightning Saws are indelibly etched with my name, the Cross-Cuts with directions for filing, setting, &c

Each Lightning Saw will cut and touch ends injured in cutting one in twenty thousand has proved imperfect, so thorough is the inspection of these regular goods by, for the benefit of such unskilled men as cannot not and use a thin Saw, a gauge heavier than regular 16 will be inserted to order since enlargement of cut space, one year ago, no complaint of clogging has been received. The Lightning Saws are equally adapted for large and small timber, soft or hard wood, but soft timber requires saws to be set wider. Lightning Saws are all set and sharpened ready for use when sent out, are two gauges thinner on back

"THE GREATEST INCLUDES THE LESS"

Note extra steel and dural fitty as contrasted with old Y cut and set M 50th. After wearing teeth out they may be reset or sold to some admirer of the old Y rip tooth process, used by all other Saws

This Saw differs from all the well-known saving teeth Saws in use. The Lightning teeth are also beveled blades for cutting, while clearing teeth used by all other patent saws are dust removers merely, requiring to be shortened, and are left full thickness of saw-plate, as they do no cutting. The Lightning Saw is designed to cut timber by direct action, both ways. If one point of M tooth was set one way and one the other, the blade would ride and lift out the tooth. Most of the large Hardware Jobbing Houses in America now handle my goods. BEWARE of worthless imitations, for which I am seeking legal redress under Patents, Trade Mark, and Copyright

NEW-YORK, AN INSTITUTE FAIR BUILT NO, Nov 4, 1871.

E M BOYNTON, 78 Beekman st, New York—SIR: This certifies that I saw the Lightning Cross-Cut Saw, works I by hand, by two men, Nov. 3 at the Fair Sixth Ward and saw cut off a sound Sycamore log 24 inches in 30 seconds, and 16 cuts of same, consecutively in two minutes and 18 seconds or at a rate of a cord of wood in less than nine minutes I am satisfied that for all purposes of cross-cutting large and small timber, your cross cuts and wood saws have no rival in speed, in ease, and in simplicity

I believe their universal use would save a vast amount of money and time, and lighten the toil of toilers of men. J W BLAKE,

Superintendent and Engineer American Institute fair

N B These extreme tests are quoted merely to prove what should be obvious—that direct cutting is better than the old Y Pitch process used by all other saws

Home-hardware men will procure the genuine for their customers, even if they are overstocked with inferior goods, and where they do not keep them, Agents are wanted in all localities. Cross Cut and Buck Saw sent on receipt of $6. Express will cost from 40 cents to $1 to places this side of the Mississippi River by special contract.

N B Millions of Axes are used for cutting wood. A Lightning Cross-Cut Saw, either for one man or for two, will cut five times as fast as any axe why not try them? Also Lightning Ice Saws, 4 to 6 feet long, suitable for general use

See that the name on the warranty are on each saw.

OF GOOD

Timber Land

For Sale at a Low Rate,

Situated on Moose River, in the town of Crosby Lewis County New York.

Said timber consists of White Hemlock, Spruce, Pine and Hardwood. The subscribers have large tenures, located on the aforesaid tract which will cut some like hemlock bark, thus enabling the land and timber to be purchased at a comparatively cheap rate. The timber is excellent in quality in all particulars. The aforesaid tract of land is easy of access, being on a river six or seven miles from both the Black River R R and Black River Canal, which load direct to the Albany Market. The land is comparatively level well watered and good for farming purposes. Moose River, which extends through the tract, is a large stream and empties into Black River, where the aforesaid Canal leads into Black River. At this point or junction of the rivers, is a fall of sixty 60 feet, over which the waters of both rivers flow, thus forming an unlimited water power, (we might say right in the Canal and at the Depot,) to which Moose River will carry the immense amount of timber from the aforesaid lands.

Any parties desiring to manufacture lumber will do well to give this rare opportunity their attention. The land and timber can be purchased at a cheap rate or the timber alone permitted

F W KINSMAN Esq—Sir Dear Sir Excessive business calls alone prevented my sooner acknowledging the receipt of your very valuable favor, and I am now glad to say that your Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam is the most efficacious preparation for coughs and colds I have ever had in my family. At the time it was received, I was suffering badly with Asthma, attended with a dry, hard Cough both of which left me immediately after taking the mixture. The latter has not returned. It has been a beyond weeks

We be undersigned, having enjoyed for many years an intimate personal acquaintance with Deacon Theodore B Perkins, would cer if that his case of Asthma was as bad as any that has ever come to our notice, and that to our knowledge, on account of this illness he went to California, where he remained about one year undergoing treatment for the disease
